BRIGHAM'S EMPIRE.

How he Keeps his Ranks Recruited—Apostacies.

Carleton's Utah Correspondence Boston Journal.

PERPETUAL EMIGRATION FUND.

This was started about twenty years ago, and is a powerful engine in the hands of Brigham Young. Religious zeal started it and shrewd management keeps it up. In the East, in England—throughout the world there are missionary organizations—American Boards, Presbyterian Boards, Baptist Boards, sustained by the churches, but I venture to say that unless it be the order of the Jesuits, there is not an organization in the world which has done more with its means than the Mormons with this fund. It is made up of gifts, contributions, legacies and tithes. Contributions are taken in all the churches every Sunday—not only here but throughout the world where there is a Mormon Church. The amount contributed here in Salt Lake last year exceeded $150,000! What other community has given, according to its means, more liberally? It costs from $100 to $125 to bring an emigrant from Liverpool to Salt Lake. At $125 per head and 5000 emigrants per annum, one-third of whom pay their passage, we have an outlay by the Church of $416,000 per annum. It is stated by Mr. Hooper that between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 have been advanced by the Church to assist foreign Saints to reach this new Zion!

It is not a gift. It is one of the peculiar features of this perpetual emigration fund, that whatever goes out comes back again. It is truly a perpetual motor. As the rain falls upon the mountains, rolls onward to the sea, turning great mill wheels, then ascends to the clouds to fall again and turn the wheels once more—an endless change and power—so is this Mormon contribution devised by Brigham Young. If an emigrant cannot pay his passage from Europe, the Church helps him on. Arriving there he gives an obligation to pay what has been advanced. The Church bides its time; does not press him; gives him an opportunity to make a little headway. All of his transactions are known. No emigrant can sell houses or land without Brigham's consent. The tithing officer is sure to call for the tithing. Little by little the $125, with ten per cent interest, comes back into the treasury, and so this benefaction river rolls on, constantly increasing its volume and power.

Brigham directs it, as trustee for the Church. Years ago he used to make a statement of receipts and expenses at the annual conference, but of late years no exhibit has been made. He is under no obligation, has no auditors, no finance committee. The saints have implicit confidence in him, ask no questions, pray for him every Sunday, and all goes on smoothly as the turbine wheel of a great factory.

APOSTACIES.

Brigham Young has not been able to lead all who have embraced the Mormon faith. There have been a great many apostates. In a conversation with Rev. Mr. Foote, an Episcopal clergyman here, he admitted that fifteen out of every twenty of the original American Mormons have apostatized [illegible] with the historian of the church, said five out of every six Americans had turned back. Foreigners are more faithful.

The first general apostacy was in 1852, under Bishop Gladden, who, while holding on to the book of Mormon, condemned polygamy.

Brigham preached a sermon in March, 1853, from which we take the following sentence:

"When a man comes right out like an independent devil, and says, 'd——n Mormonism and all the Mormons,' and is off with himself to California, I say he is a gentleman by the side of a nasty, sneaking apostate, who is opposed to nothing but Christianity. * * *
Now, you Gladdenites, keep your tongues still, lest sudden destruction come upon you. I say, rather than that the apostate should flourish here, I will unsheath my bowie knife and conquer or die."

The second apostacy was commenced in 1860. Joseph Morris felt himself inspired and made a revelation, and set up a new church. In the course of three months he had five hundred. These followers of Morris refused to train in the Nauvoo legion, were fined, their property taken and confiscated to the church. The fines and costs amounted to $60 per individual. They had a settlement on Weber river north of Salt Lake, where, in the spring of 1862, they seized a load of flour and the man driving the team, and held on the property and the man, demanding satisfaction and a proper adjustment and abatement of the fine.

Brigham went to Judge Kinney, United States Judge, obtained writs of habeas corpus, sent the Sheriff, Robert T. Burton, with a thousand men of the Nauvoo Legion and five pieces of artillery to wipe out the Morrisites and put down the apostacy.

The Morrisites showed fight—Burton opened on them with cannon—there was some musket firing—two of the Legion and several of the Morrisites killed, when the latter surrendered. Burton rode into the settlement, found Morris, pulled his revolver and shot him dead—turned round, saw Morris' chief follower, Banks, killed him with a second shot. Mrs. Bowman said, "You blood-thirsty wretch."

"No one shall say that and live," replied Burton, and shot her through the heart.

A Danish woman made a wild outcry at such atrocity, when Burton blew her brains out.

Yet this man is the present Collector of Internal Revenue in this city.

The prisoners were plundered, everything taken—clothing, watches, jewelry, cattle, wagons, furniture—and confiscated to the church.

They were brought to Salt Lake City, placed under bonds by Judge Kinney for appearance at Court, were tried, fined and imprisoned.

Gen. Conner came soon after, established a military post one hundred and seventy-five miles north of Salt Lake, gave notice to all persons who wished to go that they could have an escort and transportation. Eighty families put themselves under his protection and are now in Idaho Territory, beyond the jurisdiction of Brigham Young. So ended the Morrisite apostacy.

In 1863 began the apostacy of the Josephites, under the lead of Joseph Smith, Jr., son of the prophet. He has set up the Mormon Church, East. He is not in the Territory, and his followers are leaving it. In 1864 three hundred left the Territory under the escort furnished by Gen. Conner. It is estimated that not less than fifteen hundred have left in all. They accept the book of Mormon, the Bible, believe in continued revelation, are loyal to the United States and to the laws. The following extract from their article of faith will show they regard Brigham Young and his doctrines:

"We believe that the Church in Utah, under the Presidency of Brigham Young, has apostatized from the true order of the gospel.

"We believe that the doctrines of polygamy, human sacrifice, or killing of men to save their souls, Adam being God, Utah being Zion, or the gathering place for the saints, are doctrines of devils, instituted by wicked men for the accomplishment of their own personal aggrandizement.

"We believe in being true and loyal to the Government of the United States, and have no sympathy or fellowship for the treasonable practices and wicked abominations indorsed by Brigham Young and his followers."

The Daily Reporter, published here, is organ of the Josephites. The editor has lately received threatening letters—one containing the picture of a gallows and himself hanged by the neck. He was publicly threatened by Brigham at the late conference meeting.

The Benefit of Being Knocked About in the World.

It is a good thing for a young man to be "knocked about in the world," though his soft-hearted parents may not think so. All youths, or if not all, certainly nineteen-twentieths of the sum total, enter life with a surpluspage of self-conceit. The sooner they are relieved of it the better. If, in measuring themselves with wiser and older men, they discover that it is unwarranted, and get rid of it gracefully, of their own accord, well and good; if not, it is desirable, for their own sakes, that it be knocked out of them.

A boy who is sent to a large school soon finds his level. His will may have been paramount at home; but schoolboys are democratic in their ideas, and if arrogant, he is sure to be thrashed into a recognition of the golden rule. The world is a great public school, and it soon teaches a new pupil his proper place. If he has the attributes that belong to a leader, he will be installed in the position of a leader; if not, whatever his opinion of his abilities may be, he will be compelled to fall in with the rank and file. If not destined to greatness, the next best thing to which he can aspire is respectability; but no man can ever be truly good or truly respectable who is vain, pompous and overbearing.

By the time the novice has found his legitimate social position, be the same high or low, the probability is that the disagreeable traits of his character will be softened down or worn away. Most likely the process of abrasion will be rough, perhaps very rough, but when it is all over, and he begins to see himself as others see him, and not as reflected in the mirror of self-conceit, he will be thankful that he has run the gauntlet, and arrived, though by a rough road, at self-knowledge. Upon the whole, whatever loving mothers may think to the contrary, it is a good thing for youths to be knocked about in the world—it makes men of them.

Grant and His Cabinet.

From the New York Sun.

Gen. Grant certainly possesses an unprecedented power of keeping his own council. In this respect at least he carries with him into civil affairs the habits of his military life. It is a wise and prudent habit. The members of the Cabinet will not be appointed until after the inauguration, and however clear his judgment may now be respecting them, it is very possible he may change it. He has probably determined whom to nominate for every Executive Department; but within these three weeks he may come to a different determination respecting some of them. All those who are familiar with the history of Mr. Lincoln's first Cabinet will remember that its composition was actually not decided until the day after the inauguration. A slight consideration of the circumstances amid which that Cabinet was formed will convince any fair mind that Gen. Grant does well to avoid the unpleasant conflicts, the intrigues, the pulling and hauling, the confusion, and the ill feeling amid which that administration began. There was nothing about that struggle of hostile factions, each striving to impose its representatives upon the President, which any patriot would desire to see reproduced on the present occasion. Nor, let us add, would those who should try it on with the new President be likely to gain much by their efforts.

It is true that General Grant has not yet thought fit to consult the leaders of the Republican party with regard to official appointments: and we think he has done well in so doing. His Cabinet is his own affair, and he should select it for himself. When it comes to subordinate officers, the Senators and Representatives of the States will have a right to be heard, and there is no doubt that they will be consulted, and their advice followed in every case where it is judicious and useful.

Let no one delude his mind with the fancy that Gen. Grant can be false to the party and the principles that elected him. He will be a patriotic President, but he will also be a Republican. Any contrary supposition or suspicion is an insult to the [illegible] of his illustrious career.

Audacity of New York Robbers

The novel method of robbery pursued at the Park Bank in New York the other day, was tried again in the same city Monday. Early in the evening three men were observed loitering in front of the jewelry store of Messrs. Benedict Bros., at No. 691 Broadway. Suddenly, one with a large piece of iron dashed in the heavy plate glass window and a glass case that lay inside, and another of the gang seized a tray containing diamond jewelry valued at $1,800. There were four people in the store at the time, but before either of them could reach the street the thieves had fled. Numbers of person were passing along the street at the time of the robbery, and their attention being attracted by the crash of broken glass, many turned in time to see the theft committed. A few of the bolder followed the thieves in their flight, but after proceeding a short distance, one of the latter turned, and in a threatening manner wanted to know "Who in h—l they were following? What did they want?" This had the desired effect; the crowd fell back, awed by the ruffian's threat, and he and his companions departed unmolested. The case from which the tray of diamonds was taken, as well as the show-window was of heavy plate glass, and had been constructed with a view to prevent the depredations of thieves. The instrument used to smash in the window is a piece of flat iron about six inches square, with a spike one inch in length in the centre of the outer surface. It is fitted with a handle, and the hand of the thief was further protected with a piece of cotton cloth. The instrument was found on the pavement in front of the store, and is now in possession of the police. Several of those who witnessed the robbery can fully identify the thieves, should they be arrested.

It is expected that the Rev. Dr. Huntington will be consecrated to the office of Bishop of Central New York about the 1st of April, and at the place where the presiding Bishop of the United States (now Bishop Smith, of Kentucky,) shall designate.

Miss Carrie Augusta Moore, the Worrell Sisters, and others of the fair sex, will not wait until a velocipede is invented adapted especially for their use. They have mounted the bicycle, and propose to astonish the people of the principle cities by their skillful management of it.

George S. Twitchell, jr., the Philadelphia murderer, seems to realize his situation, and spends much time in reading religious works and listening to his minister, Dr. Brieghurst. He is quiet and docile, his manner being described as amiable and winning. He still protests, however, that he knows nothing of the crime for which he is to be hanged. A movement has been made by the citizens of Philadelphia to secure his pardon of Gov Geary.

Three masters of the art of cooking—all gentlemen of color—George T. Downing, William H. Smith and Henry Johnson—aspire to the $2,000 salary, perquisites and glory of the stewardship of the White House. Mr. Downing now has charge of the House restaurant at the capitol, Mr. Smith provides for Speaker Colfax's household; and Mr. Johnson has for years kept Representative Hooper and his friends in such a happy condition of physical preservation and gastronomy enjoyment.

Fortieth Congress---Second Session

House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13

Mr Hooper, from the Committee on Banking and Currency, reported a bill regulating reports of National Banking Associations. After discussion and amendment the bill passed. The following are its provisions:

That every National Banking Association shall make to the Comptroller, on the first Monday of every month, a report exhibiting in detail and under appropriate heads the resources and liabilities of the association before the commencement of business on the morning of the day aforesaid, and shall transmit the same to the Comptroller of the Currency within five days thereafter, and such report shall be in the manner and form prescribed by the Comptroller, verified by oath or affirmation of the President and Cashier of such association, or by either one of them, and two of the directors, and shall give in lieu of the quarterly reports and monthly reports required by the 34th section of the National Currency act, approved June 3, 1864. The return of each association on the first Monday of January and July shall be verified by oath or affirmation of the President and Cashier, and attested by the signatures of at least three of the directors, certifying they have personally examined the resources and liabilities of the association as set forth in said report, and have found the same to be correct, and such reports for January and July shall contain a statement of the gross earnings and profits of the previous six months, and be published in a newspaper where such association is established, at the expense of the association making the same, and if there be no newspaper published at such place, then in some newspaper to be designated by the Comptroller of the Currency, within the county or State where such association is located, and every banking association shall make and transmit to the Comptroller of the Currency a special report as aforesaid of its condition on any day specified whenever required by the Comptroller of the Currency, and any association failing to make and transmit such monthly or other report as herein required shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each day after three days that such bank shall delay to make and transmit any report as aforesaid, and in case any association shall delay or refuse to pay the penalty herein imposed, when the same shall be assessed by the Comptroller of the Currency, the amount of such penalty may be retained by the Treasurer of the United States, upon the order of the Comptroller of the Currency, out of the interest as it may become due, to the association of bonds deposited with him to secure circulation, and all sums of money collected for penalties under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

Mr Hooper, from the same Committee, reported a bill prohibiting National Banks certifying checks where they have not deposits of the parties covering the amount certified. Passed.

Mr Barnes, from the same Committee, reported a bill to prevent National Bank loaning money on United States notes or National Bank notes, as collateral security.

Mr Burnes explained the object of the bill, which is to prevent banking frauds and thus making a corner in the currency. After some discussion and explanation of the bill passed.

Mr Hooper reported a bill prohibiting by him to prohibit further increase of the public debt.

On motion of Mr Judd the following section was added:

Section 5. And be it further enacted, That from and after the passage of this act all sales of gold on account of the United States shall be made at public auction by the proper officer of the Treasury, after giving three days public notice of time and place where such sale shall be made by advertising the same for at least three days.

Mr Judd stated he found in the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, that $4,000,000 had been paid by the Government to commission on the sale of gold and silver which had commenced to sell. The bill was then passed.

Mr Pomeroy from the same committee reported back the Senate bill empowering money to the national Banking bill of June 3, 1864 with various amendments. After debate the bill was ordered printed. The House then took a recess the evening session to be for general debate.

Senate.

The President presented the credentials of Mr Fenton, Senator elect from New York.

Mr Frelinghuysen presented the credentials of his successor, Mr Stockton, Senator elect from New Jersey.

Mr Stewart introduced a bill to establish a uniform rule of naturalization.

Mr Corbett offered a resolution which was adopted, directing the Committee on Agriculture to inquire into the expediency of allowing each State to be represented by a Commissioner to be chosen by the State respectively at their annual State fairs.

General News.

NEW YORK, Feb 13

The Florida special Jacksonville dispatch says: For some time past a number of Cuban gentlemen have been at this city under suspicious circumstances. On the 7th inst they chartered the steamer Henry Burden, giving out that she was bound for Nassau. About the same time a steamer arrived from Charleston with coal, and hauled alongside the Henry Harden. The work of emptying the coal into the latter vessel was immediately commenced and continued all night, after which the latter sailed, having cleared for Nassau. It is pretty well known that the Burden has a quantity of arms and other ammunition on board and that large sums of money have been collected by sympathizers to ship on board of her. There is no doubt that the vessel is bound for Cuba to the service of the insurgents.

The Herald's Rio de Janeiro letter of Dec 20th, two days later than previous advices states that Admiral Davis and his fleet and the two prisoners had arrived at Buenos Ayres. He expressed himself satisfied with the explanation made by Lopez and believes that Washburne, Bliss and Masterman were all engaged in a conspiracy to overthrow the Paraguayan Government. The remnant of Lopez' army was still at Augustoras, Sugue being at present his seat of Government. Minister McMahon was with him. Caxias' army was very much in need of reorganization after the fight at Villeta. The fire in the custom house at Rio de Janeiro on 27th destroyed a quarter of a million dollars worth of property.

It is stated that among the numerous other rings in this city there is a flour ring, composed of certain classes of flour operators at the Corn Exchange. Their aim is to monopolize the trade by ruling out the flour manufacturers of this city and Brooklyn.

The Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners has been very vigorous in reorganizing the force. Of late the system of discipline has been more rigidly enforced than heretofore, and fines against members have been assessed to the amount of $4,000, where $1,500 was the average sum in the corresponding periods heretofore. It has been determined also to apply to the Legislature for a bill increasing the force by about 1000 men, or about half of the force are to be divested of uniforms.

A Washington special says Col Levenworth testified before the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs yesterday to the effect that in General Custer's battle of the Washita, only 19 Indians were killed and only 80 lodges were attacked in all, though General Custer in his report places the number of lodges at 250 and the Indians killed at 103. Mrs Blinn, who was reported to have been surrendered by a squaw during the fight was shot by our own soldiers, according to Col Leavenworth's statement she having started to run toward them when the firing commenced.

A Wall street financier, H. A. Brown, sails today for London for the purpose of ratifying negotiations now in progress with European capitalists for the purchase of a western railroad.

Grant and Colfax

This morning at half past 10 o'clock Senator Morton and Representatives Pruyn and Wilson, of Iowa, made their appearance at headquarters of the army for the purpose of presenting to Gen Grant a certificate of his election as President of the United States. Senator Morton addressed the President elect, announcing that they were the Committee appointed by Congress to present him with the commission as President of the United States for four years, commencing on the 4th of March next, and in a few remarks assured the General that his election was extremely gratifying to his country men and that the people felt assured he would, in exercising the duties of his distinguished office, apply the same energy, integrity, and patriotism that had characterized him in a higher sphere of usefulness, and in concluding his remarks said he would have the support of the nation, even including those who differed practically from him in administering the affairs of the Government.

Gen Grant replied without any reserve, and with the greatest frankness and courtesy, and his remarks were received by his distinguished visitors with every mark of interest and appreciation. Afterwards Mr Pruyn, of the Committee, addressed the General very briefly that while the party with which he was identified differed politically from the President elect, he desired to assure him his administration in carrying out the principles which he had mentioned would have their hearty support and co operation. The speeches were delivered more in a conversational tone than in a formal, set manner, and the occasion was one of quiet though most intense interest. Members of the staff were present, altogether including the committee and staff officers. The committee, after leaving Gen Grant's head quarters, proceeded to the capitol, and waited upon Speaker Colfax in his reception room. He was presented with the certificate of his election as President, signed by the President of the Senate, and then severally congratulated him, to which friendly expression he responded as follows:

Gentlemen—Please convey to the Houses of Congress my acceptance of the office to which I have been elected by the people of the United States, and assure them I shall endeavor to prove worthy of the mark of confidence by fidelity to principle and to duty. The committee then withdrew.

Nominations

The President to day nominated Lewis Dent to be Minister to Chili, and John S. Noyle to be Secretary of the Legation.

Veto

The President has sent the following message to the Senate:

To the Senate of the United States

The bill entitled "an act transferring the duties of the Trustees of the Colored Schools of Washington and Georgetown," is herewith returned to the Senate, in which House it originated, without my approval. The accompanying paper exhibited the fact that the legislation which the bill proposes is contrary to the wishes of the colored residents of Washington and Georgetown, and that they prefer the schools for their children should be under the management of trustees selected by the Secretary of the Interior, whose term of office is for four years, and rather than be subject to the control of bodies whose tenure of offices, depending mainly on political considerations, may be annually effected by elections which take place in the two cities. The colored people of Washington and Georgetown are at present not represented by a person of their own race on the Board of Trustees of Public Schools appointed by the municipal authorities. Of the trustees, however, who, under the act of July 11, 1862, composed the Board of Trustees of the School for Colored Children, two are persons of color. The resolutions transmitted herewith show that they have performed their trust in a manner entirely satisfactory to the colored people of the two cities, and no good reason is known to the Executive why the duties which now devolve upon them shall be transferred as proposed in the bill. With these brief suggestions the bill is respectfully returned and the consideration of Congress invited to the accompanying preamble and resolutions.

Heavy Storms

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 10

A heavy rain storm, lasting two days, has prevailed throughout the State, and railroad and telegraph communication is interrupted in all directions. Portions of the San Jose Railroad is washed away, and the tracks of the Central Pacific are covered with water from the Sacramento river, which overflowed its banks. Bridges on the California Northern Railroad were swept away by floods. Also severe snow storms in the mountains. The snow drifted from 12 to 15 feet deep, and snow slides are reported along the Central Pacific Railroad. Thus far trains are only detained a few hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 11

Reports from the interior indicate the recent storm the most destructive since the winter of 1862. It visited every portion of the State. Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys suffering the most. The lower portion of the city of Stockton was flooded and the principal streets were filled by the Calavaras River overflowing its banks. No loss of life reported.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE MORNING HERALD,
TITUSVILLE, Feb 13 1869—8 P. M.

The tone of the market was unsettled at the opening but became dull and weak early in the day, and continued so until late use. Almost all the buyers withdrew from the Creek before noon and, the few that remained in the market offered prices so much lower than those which could have been obtained yesterday afternoon that, under the present state of feeling among the producers, sales from the wells were practically prohibited. As will be seen by the sales given above the decline that took place was principally among the dealers as two lots of 500 barrels each changed hands at Oil City at $6 90 and $7 00, while on the creek, south of Petroleum Centre the only sale reported was from the wells, and at $6 75, which was equivalent to $7 10 at Oil City, on the railroad upon which the first two lots were sold. At Pleasantville the feeling was weaker than at any other point, and sales were made at a decline of five cents. At Rouseville and Petroleum Centre and intermediate points, 500 and 1,000 barrel lots were held at $6 90 and north of the latter place there were sellers of round lots at from $6 65 to $6 75. From the appearance of the market on the creek and of the outside markets it is evident that a "bear" movement of at least respectable to be was in progress. With one or two unimportant exceptions the dealers on the creek were favoring the movement as much as possible. There were reports in circulation to the effect that some of the largest holders of oil in the East were unloading. The sales to day reached 3,500 barrels and included 2,500 for November, 500 for Oil City, and 500 on speculation.

Butler and Wade.

It is well that the United States Senate and the House of Representatives do not go into Joint Convention every day in the week, for each is so jealous of its own rights and dignity, that the consequences of collision between the fiery spirits of each might be alarming And it is fortunate for the country that the election of Grant did not hinge on the electoral vote of Georgia or a revolution might have ensued, on Wednesday last The point raised by Butler was that the vote of Georgia should not be received and counted Wade held that the vote was not well taken, but the tellers should proceed with the count and refused to entertain Butler's appeal from this decision Of course this made a row Butler got furious, and seemed to carry the House with him and the violence and disorder that followed was only checked by Speaker Colfax's threat that he would order the arrest of the members who did not vote to and respect the decisions of the Chair It is a little singular that the Senate, whose history of the claim of the Georgia Senators to seats in that body, should have held that it was not in order to count the electoral vote of that State and quietly so that the House, which has admitted the Representatives to its membership, should have challenged its electoral vote By the joint resolution adopted by both Houses, each House seems to have been placed in a false position and to have stultified its own record That resolution contemplated the reading of the Georgia vote, without any indication or discussion as to whether it was legal or regular or not But from this attitude the House, on further reflection, wished to recede, while the Senate on the other hand, resolved to adhere to what it had committed one The collision was equally indefensible in both bodies, because after all, it was more ceremonial than substance, of importance that if how it changed no result, But if that were the case and it contemplated nothing in the future while it produced a good deal of irritation and feeling on both sides But the proceedings of the following day show that neither House will consent to such display, on the 6th of March of the succeeding power, or of an unparliamentary and tyrannical spirit on the other There is nothing to fight about in fact When it says that a majority is not the "many and they" it will find that "nobody is hurt

The National Banking Law

The bill to amend the National Banking Law prepared by the Senate Finance Committee in the first section requires a report to be made to the Comptroller of the Currency by each officer of the bank, as often as the Comptroller deems it necessary, exhibiting in detail the resources and liabilities of the association At future to make such report subjects the association to a penalty of $100 for every day after five days that such report is delayed Also to send such reports as required to be made by the Comptroller and published in a newspaper where the association is established It is by section 31 bank selected as a depository is not allowed to exceed ninety per cent of the par value of the bonds held by the treasurer as security Any officer or agent of a bank delinquent in duly receiving or offering to pay in money or other valuable consideration for obtaining or retaining public moneys or if any agent of the Government receives any consideration for making deposits of public money, he shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction is liable to fine and imprisonment It provides a salary to receivers of $1,500 per annum, in addition to the commissions which they are to receive on all banks whose capital exceeds $100,000 It prohibits national banks from loaning on United States notes, or on circulating notes of national banks as collateral Such loans and contracts are not binding and void The Banking Committee have added an amendment to the bill, redistributing circulating currency by taking $25,000,000 from those States that have an excess, giving $10,000,000 to the South and the remainder to the States and Territories that have not their required quota

Petroleum Items.

A new well was struck last week on the Patterson farm, Bull Run It is owned by Messrs Watson and Porter, and is producing twenty five barrels per day

A well owned by Colonel Brown, Cherry tree run, was torpedoed last week, and on Saturday was producing at the rate of fifty barrels per day

A new well on the bluff of the Steele farm is being tested, with very fair indications of producing in paying quantities

The well owned by Joseph Overy on Cherry tree run, struck some time ago, was torpedoed last week, and the production was increased to seventy barrels per day Another well situated on the same run, and owned by Mr Overy, is being tested

EXPLOSIVE BURNING OILS.—The Pittsburg Gazette says

We have taken the trouble to collect several samples of the oil sold by retail dealers in the city for burning purposes, and find that, as a general thing, most of the articles exposed for sale are safe, while some of the brands are absolutely dangerous to an extreme One brand especially, a cheap oil going by the name of "Petroleum Fluid", and purchased at a grocery establishment doing a large retail trade, is worthy of condemnation It will explode at a very slight heat, and if a piece of lighted paper be held within three inches of an open vessel containing it, will burst into flames We have the sample of this oil in our possession, and those curious may call at our sanctum and test its highly explosive and inflammable character. If any careless person handles any quantity of this dangerous fluid near a fire a fearful explosion will be the certain result Let purchasers be aware of the cheap qualities of burning oils exposed for sale in the city.

OIL CREEK AND ALLEGHENY RAILWAY

Annual Report of the President—History of the Consolidation—Exclusive Privileges—Condition of the Road and Rolling Stock—Business Prospects—Dividends—Satisfactory Election of Officers, etc

The following is the report of the President of the O C. & A R Railway, read at the annual meeting of the stockholders, at Corry, on the 10th inst

To the stockholders of the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railway Company

As your road is the result of a consolidation of three roads, constructed by separate companies, into one, in presenting this, our first report, your Board deem it appropriate to refer briefly to the history of these several roads

NUCLEUS OF THE ROAD

The Oil Creek Railroad was chartered in 1861 with authority to build and construct a railroad from some point on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad to Titusville, thence along Oil Creek to Oil City, and extend the same to Franklin" This road was commenced and completed early in 1862 from Corry to Titusville, in 1863 it was extended to "Shaffer Farm," and subsequently to "Boyd Farm," its terminus at the date of our consolidation, its length being 28 miles

WARREN AND FRANKLIN AND FARMERS' RAILWAY

The Warren and Franklin Railway was chartered in 1861, was commenced in December, 1865, and completed to Oil City (50 miles) in July, 1866

The Farmers Railroad, from Oil City to Petroleum Centre was chartered in 1863. Its length is 8 miles, with a branch up Cherry Run of about 4 miles, it was commenced early in 1866, and completed about the first of November, same year

In August, 1867, the Warren and Franklin Railway Company purchased a majority of the stock of the Farmers Railroad, and in November of the same year that road was merged into and consolidated with the Warren and Franklin Railway, thus making one road from Irvineton to Petroleum Centre, leaving an interval of about one half mile between it and the Oil Creek Railroad at Boyd Farm

CONSOLIDATION

In the winter of 1868, negotiations were commenced and consummated for the consolidation of the Oil Creek Railroad into the Warren & Franklin Railway under the name of the "Oil Creek & Allegheny Railway," forming a continuous road through the Oil Regions from Irvington to Corry—100 miles in length including branch. The Act of Consolidation went into effect on the first day of March, 1868 and whatever doubt may have existed heretofore with regard to the propriety of that measure, the experience of the last ten months must convince the most skeptical of its wisdom Indeed your Board feel much gratification in being able to assure you of its entire success for had the consolidation of these roads failed the result could only have been a violent contest between the two companies for business and a failure of dividends to their respective stockholders As the matter now stands all rivalry is at an end The rate of charge from Oil City (the central point) to the respective termini (Corry and Irvington) are the same, and from intermediate points on the line to Oil City is nearly so as per tariff

OIL BUSINESS

As your company furnishes no cars to transport freight on its own road, equal facilities are now afforded to all parties coming from other roads for oil—by far the principal product of the country through which our road passes merchandise or other freight, especially local is generally carried on the road to the cars of this company, but other parties may run their own cars over it with such freight but without allowance for cars used

The articles of consolidation stipulate that no preference shall be given in the movement or in the loading, unloading of the cars and property, or of transportation of oil and whatever to any party doing business on the line of the road, with the exception of the Atlantic & Great Western Railway or its successors, which is to be forwarded over the Oil City and Franklin line on Oil City and Franklin

It has been the earnest desire of your Board that this regulation should be strictly enforced and we have every reason to infer that it will be both to the five companies with which we have established our friendly relations and to our own

TIP AND TITUSVILLE RAILROAD

In the articles of consolidation it was provided that this Company should purchase and pay for the Tip & Titusville Railroad the sum of two hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of the said new incorporated company or in such capital stock as it may elect After due consideration, your Board deemed it best to pay in stock and for the purpose 4,000 shares of stock ($200,000) were purchased with the product of one hundred thousand bonds of the Company or $100,000 and paid over to the Trustees of that road on the delivery of the conveying all the rights privileges interests and franchises of that company to ours, thus saving ten bonds, or $10,000 which is still in the hands of our Treasurer and will be applied to the improvement of the road to the purchase of equipment, or cancelled, as may be considered most desirable The track of the Reno and Pithole Railroad south of Rouseville and north of Plumer (about 12 miles) has been taken up and used chiefly in laying a third rail along the track and sidings between Boyd Farm and Oil City and laying the third rail previously laid between Boyd Farm and Corry The bulk of the iron being light has been exchanged for new and heavier rails to be used in general repairs In laying the third rail between Boyd Farm and Oil City, that portion of your road between Corry and the latter place is adapted to the use of either broad or narrow gauge cars running on connecting roads, thus enabling us to accommodate the trade of all parties using the road

IMPROVEMENTS

An examination of the entire line immediately after the consolidation showed that a large amount of work must be done to place it in good working condition First of all the connection of the two roads at Petroleum Centre and Boyd Farm was considered indispensable This was immediately commenced and, including a new bridge over Oil Creek, was finished and opened for through business early in July last

The principal improvements made during the past season may be enumerated as follows

A new and permanent brick engine house at Corry, strengthening the road at Tryonville

A fresh house at Titusville a new and substantial bridge over Oil Creek at the latter place, the connection of the two roads (already mentioned) extension of the engine house at Oil City now with switches at the same place, new water station houses at Tionesta and Tidioute, engine house and turn table at the latter place, also a large amount of sloping to remove hill slides and prevent the same—all of which should be properly charged to construction, but have been paid out of the current receipts of the road

In the repair department a large amount of bolting and ditching has been done, embankment substituted for trestling, new cross ties and rails laid, and the track generally adjusted, so that the entire road is now in better condition for general use than it ever was before—The expenses both of construction and repair have been large, but experience teaches us that all requisite facilities should be furnished and the road kept in the best possible condition to accommodate the extraordinary demand of the business incident to our road It is not anticipated however, that the construction account will be nearly so large the ensuing year as during the past—perhaps $150,000 less will meet all needful demands in this department

EQUIPMENT

The equipment account for the past ten months represents the purchase of forty three freight cars, two passenger cars, and two locomotive engines At the present time the equipment of the road is in good condition but is worked to its greatest capacity, and it will be the duty of your Board promptly to increase it if required to meet new developments or demands in the increasing local business of the road

ADVANTAGEOUS CONTRACT

In October last a contract was concluded with the Allegheny Pipe and Transportation Company for ten years, by which the most if not all the oil passing through their pipes is secured to your road, and no pipes are to be parallel to it for or during the term of said contract, thus placing at rest, competition from that source

OIL PRODUCTION

During the past year, the production of oil has exceeded any previous one and whatever doubt may have existed in regard to the failure of that valuable product the new developments constantly being made on the large extent of oil producing territory comprised within the circuit of your road, afford ample evidence that it will continue for many years to come.

BUSINESS REPORT.

The business of the road during the past ten months (March 1st to December (31st) has equalled, and in fact, exceeded our most sanguine expectations Tabular statements representing the character of the business in detail, receipts, expenditures, &c, will accompany the report of your Treasurer—from which it will be seen that the amount of capital stock issued is limited to 85,180 shares—equal to $4,259,450, and of bonds, (including $10,000 in Treasury) $3,180,000, making a total of stock and bonds of $7,439,450.

From March 1st to December 31st, inclusive, there has been carried over or upon the road, 312,349 passengers, 2,507,434 barrels of oil, and of merchandize, coal, lumber and other freight, 111,069 tons.

The earnings of the road during that period of 10 months have been $1,507,468 17, being an average of over $150,000 per month, and the disbursements, including interest on bonded debt, three quarterly dividends to stockholders, $136,096 10, for construction and equipment, $1 346,422 06, leaving balance in Treasury on the 1st of January, 1869, of $161,064 11, sufficient to meet all accruing interest on bonds at maturity and the ensuing April dividends of two and a half per cent to the stockholders, with no floating debt whatever upon the road.

FAVORABLE DEDUCTIONS

From the above statement of facts it is evident to your Board, that the road, on its present business alone, will be abundantly able to pay all its interest and ten per cent. dividends on the stock clear of all taxes, besides appropriating probably $200,000 per annum to purchasing its own securities The Board hope to secure a connection with the Allegheny Valley Railroad by it bridging the river at Oil City, which will add a valuable and entirely new source of traffic between the cities of Pittsburg and Buffalo and intermediate points, and also enable us to transport large quantities of lumber from the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad over our river division of fifty miles on its way to Pittsburg and other points, the return cars bringing back to the oil regions and Buffalo all classes of traffic, including the fine gas coal of the Pittsburgh region

PROPOSED ALLIANCE

The Board also hope that a connection between our road and the Jamestown Branch of the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad will be perfected during the coming year, which will also prove a valuable ally and feeder to our lines.

With these new sources of revenue there is no reason why your property shall not be made most useful to the public and profitable to its shareholders

By order of the Board of Directors,
EDWARD F GAY, President

The Philadelphia Election Frauds

Since the meeting of the Legislature at Harrisburg, an investigation has been made into the election of a Representative from the Eleventh District of Philadelphia, in which the seat held by Daniel Witham, Democrat, was contested by William Bunn, Republican The case was ended on the 27th by the admission of Bunn, and the rejection of Witham According to the returns made by the election officers, Witham had a majority of 5 votes in the district The evidence in the case showed an amount of fraud that is positively startling, and it goes far to show how it was that the Democrats carried the city in October We quote below the testimony of one of the principal witnesses, as a specimen of a large number of the affidavits taken

Michael Steven sworn I reside in Christian street between Fifth and Sixth streets, Philadelphia on the 10th of October I had an apartment in my house I know of persons in the Eleventh Legislative district who were not residents therein I know of them having voted in the Sixteenth Ward, I, Mr Lamb, Mr Elliott Mr Rowan Mr Reading, three New Yorkers and Baltimoreans went the city up three eight of us started from Third and Christian and met two others at Third and Queen streets took the Third street car and went down Poplar to Front, went to the Bulls Head Hotel, Front above Poplar, and got from a man there a name residence and occupation, and voted got the ticket from this man from there we went to Front and Otter streets, got the name and residence, and voted there then went to New Market and Laurel from there to Second and Germantown road, from there to Second and Beaver streets, from there to Fourth and George, from there to Fifth and Popular from there to Franklin and Girard avenue, we got 4 5 bill there from a man who gave us the tickets and five of us went down to Girard avenue market and got our dinners the other five went down town, the whole ten voted in the places I have mentioned the five I was with went to Front above Poplar, and went over the same tract that ten thousand had gone before I was sent to Front above Poplar don't know the name of the man who sent me I had a trunk to know the man from whom I was to get the ticket he had a piece of store string tied to his button hole, each one of us received a scrap of paper with name residence and occupation on we did not go in a body from one poll to another, cannot recollect the names we voted on as soon as we voted we gave the slips of paper to the man who gave them to us do not know the names of the parties who furnished the tickets we voted the Democratic ticket did not examine any of them, the men we took them from had the Democratic badge on I was not challenged nor put on my oath nor any of the others that I saw, did not see all the votes taken in, I voted twenty times myself that day we started at eight o'clock in the morning and stopped at half past five

Suffrage—The Two Propositions

As the Amendment passed the House it read as follows

"Be it resolved, &c., two thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three fourths of said Legislatures, shall be held as part of said Constitution, namely

"Article— Section 1 The right of any citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged, by the United States or any State by reason of race, color, or previous condition of slavery of any citizen or class of citizens of the United States

"Section 2 That Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article"

Thus the Senate amended as below—adopting the XVth article on Mr Wilson's motion, and the XVIth on motion of Gov Morton

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, &c., two thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States either of which when ratified by three forths of said Legislatures shall be held as a part of said Constitution, namely

Article 15 No discrimination shall be made in the United States, among the citizens of the United States, in the exercise of the elective franchise, or in the right to hold office in any State, on account of race, color, nativity, property, education or creed

Article 16 The second clause, first section, second article of the Constitution of the United State, shall be amended as follows

Each State shall appoint, by a vote of the people thereof qualified to vote for Representatives in Congress, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress, but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector, and the Congress shall have power to prescribe the manner in which such electors shall be chosen by the people

The vote in the House was 150 to 42 and in the Senate 40 to 16, for the respective propositions One of them must yield

THE Masquerade Friday evening at Corinthian Hall, although not so large as some entertainments of like character held previously, was well attended, and the hall well filled, including many spectators, and the festivities continued until an early hour The music, too much praise cannot be given Spencer and his immitable band are up to the times in everything as regards new and popular music, while the ballad singing of Dan Collins, of Arlington Minstrel notoriety, was very fine

JOSEPH SHIPPEN, Esq., of Meadville, Pa., is about to make a European tour for six months He sails on the 27th inst. We wish him a pleasant journey and a safe return

The Assassination of Ex Senator McConnell, of Illinois.

The assassination of Ex-Senator Murray McConnell, of Illinois, has created an extraordinary excitement throughout that State. Gen McConnell was one of the oldest citizens of Central Illinois, and had, perhaps, taken a more active part in its political history than any other living man. He was a man of decided ability, ready wit and considerable scientific and literary attainments He was a successful lawyer, having been the associate of Baker, Lincoln, Lamberton, Douglass and others of like character. He was a participant in the black Hawk war, and shortly after was elected Representative in the Legislature. From 1854 to 1858 he was a member of the Senate of Illinois. Under Buchanan he held the office of First Auditor of the Treasury.

On the morning of his assassination he breakfasted with his family about eight o'clock. At half-past eight he was seen in his room alone, reading. Fifteen minutes later he was found cold and lifeless, with five deep gashes in his head. It is thought the wounds were made by a sling-shot or hammer No one was seen to enter the premises, and thus far no clue has been obtained of the murderer Mr. McConnell's residence was located in one of the most densely populated parts of the city of Jacksonville.

The Petroleum Business.

The Cleveland Herald repeats its claim that the petroleum business of that city is greater than that of any other place, Pittsburgh not excepted, and refers to the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the year ending June 30, 1868, for the figures It says

A comparison of the tables of return show that the amount of duties received from the Cleveland district was over sixty two per cent greater than that received from the entire State of Pennsylvania, and more than one third of all the amount received from refined petroleum in the United States The figures are as follows

	Total Tax Received
Eighteenth District (Cleveland)	$1,860,683
All Pennsylvania	959,583
Total Receipts for United States	4 214 641

The inference is obvious Even the refining business of Cleveland is nearly two thirds greater than that of the whole State of Pennsylvania, or the Pennsylvania refiners have succeeded in perpetrating enormous frauds on the revenue—The Pennamites can take which horn of the dilemma they choose

EVANS W SHIPPEN, Esq, of Meadville, well known in the oil regions as the former proprietor of the Shippen Well, on Sugar Creek, is now abroad, and in connection with Philadelphia parties, intends importing a large number of Percheron, and other valuable French horses.

More Curiosities.—Dr. Hoffman returned this week with a fresh lot of curiosities Among the many are two French Mamezettes, brought from near the vicinity where the Great Napoleon was born They are held sacred in their native country, and are objects of love and adoration among many classes. They are the only ones in America, and are very pretty. Those beautiful birds from Alaska, King and Queen of the feathered tribe. A regular Grecian Bender to be seen, also the cause of the late rebellion, living and real to behold, and the richest treat of all is to see and hear the Monkey Minstrel play the violin and tambourine together, and play on fifty different instruments. TRI-NITRO

MANUFACTURED UNDER

Mowbray's Patent,

NO. 76,499, APRIL 7th, 1869.

BLASTED IN

OIL WELLS

with Electricity

BY

GEO. M. MOWBRAY,

Superintendent of Blasting Nitro-Glycerine at the Hoosac Tunnel, Massachusetts.

(COPY.)

North Adams, Mass., Feb 17 1868

Geo. M. Mowbray, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: It is the wish of the Commissioners that you take entire control of the blasting, while introducing Nitro-glycerine. They wish you to be responsible, that no accident may happen.

Please give such orders, as you deem best in regard to it. I have notified C. A. Brown to receive all instructions from you and to report to you. I shall give no orders nor advice to him but leave him fully under your control. Yours very truly
W. P. GRANGER, Engineer in charge.

The terrible loss of life which had invariably attended the introduction of Nitro-glycerine, probably suggested the above communication, and the fact that no injury to life or limb occurred with Nitro-glycerine, during the past year at the Hoosac Tunnel, although we blasted over two thousand charges a month, is the best guarantee I can offer to proprietors of oil wells, who may wish this explosive tried in their wells. I shall spare no pains, care or outlay, to attain the best results and having erected works on Church Run, which have to day been tested, and found to make Nitro-glycerine more powerful than any produced by other parties, or imported, is safer to handle, and having the advantage of witnessing its effects in rock blasting, I hope to deserve the confidence of well operators, pledging myself that the full charge stipulated for shall in every case be exploded in their wells, or no payment will be asked. Address by mail or telegraph,
GEO M. MOWBRAY, Titusville, Pa.

To prevent delay, please notify a few days in advance, when practicable.

OFFICE AT THE RED PLANING MILL

Heretofore we have in our circulars, alluded to a series of experiments being made with Nitro Glycerine and other explosives. We now announce that we have succeeded, even beyond our most sanguine expectations as regards the safety of handling, also the unprecedented force and power manifested by a skillful combination whereby the size of the Torpedo is lessened and the force many times multiplied and are now prepared to operate on wells with any of the above named explosives—either with our improved combination or our old Combination Torpedo, which has a record of utility too well known to need mention here.

CAUTION.—The public is cautioned against employing any but the regularly authorized agents of this Company, since their patent, according to the recent decision of the Commissioner of Patents for the United States, covers the use of the Torpedo and all other explosive materials for oil wells, and the use of such materials by other parties is a direct infringement of their rights, and we shall hold land or working interests to a strict accountability for such infringements.

T. McCAMBRIDGE, Esq.—DEAR SIR:—We have one of Samuel Rue & Co.'s patent injectors in use in our establishment for the last six months, and we take pleasure in saying that it gives entire satisfaction, and would recommend it to all parties. It is simple in its construction and its working is as easily understood as the common force pump, it never gets out of order and is always ready to pour water into the boiler when required.

MR. McCAMBRIDGE—DEAR SIR:—We have used, and are still using, your patent steam injector with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect and simple we know of, and would not be without one under any circumstances.
Yours truly, M. L. BATES & CO.

TO OIL OPERATORS.

I have invented a new and useful instrument for

Searching and Scraping

the walls in Oil Wells, removing the Paraffine or other substance from the sides of wells, and indicating the locality of any Crevice, be it ever so small. This has been used in a number of Wells, and all who have seen its workings pronounce it to be far preferable to anything now in use, as it will make the same record in coming up as when lowered into the well, and the same the second time as the first, and will not indicate a Crevice for every Spall that may have been broken out of the rock when the well was being drilled, and thus lead the well owners to Explode Torpedoes or Tube their wells in the wrong place and occasioning a great expenditure of time and money without any beneficial results.

I will guarantee to all who may favor me with their Custom, that they will be satisfied that the record furnished them of their wells is correct and reliable.

All orders directed to me at Titusville, Box 550, or left at my residence on Church Run will be promptly attended to. ELIAS BEACH.
